All Seek Independence
The U. S. A. Could Have It
France Sells Wheat
Value in Old Age

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

In these days every nation is seeking independence, even the independence of every other nation. Before the big war France imported wheat, now, although some of her food grain regions were devastated by the war, France is selling surplus wheat to England.

She has shipped her first 1000 tons of wheat to Japan. England plans great extension of her wheat production in the future. It is to be independent of this country, and with England under control, Mussolini will be able to raise all the cotton he wants with cheap labor and plenty left over to sell.

All this history the thoughtful American cotton grower will better not move as England, Brazil and Russia increase cotton production.

Edward Heffron, former French premier, says America is "in another place," as regards future financial help for France.

Our country ought to be "in another place" as regards dependence on anything in Europe. Africa or Asia. The South American continent should be as independent of the rest of the world as there is of the earth, and it COULD be that.

The commanding officer of the big French liner Normandie, Captain Pugnet, is comparatively young because of his fifty-five years old. Ordinarily Europeans appreciate the experience and wisdom that come with age and keep good men working as long as possible. The commander of a great ship, responsible for thousands of lives, is an exception. He is not in the prime of physical as well as mental vigor. Commander Pugnet once went sixty-four hours without leaving the bridge of his ship.

The big war taught the world a lesson. Because Alexander ruled the world at twenty-three,
and Napoleon had been conquered Europe. In his thirties, computers were supposed to lead extreme youth. The big war was won by old men, two of them, Lloyd George and Clemenceau, supported, as the thought and energy, while Pugnet, a military commander, any one of them was old enough to be the great-grandfather of Alexander the Great.

In the United States appearance is not held the same high rank. Too long have we been rapidly run by young men, half of whom are in their thirties. The older men keep the doors alive. Nevertheless, in many lines, particularly in great railroad and other enterprises, there is a steady compulsory retirement.

If the late, original J. Pierpont Morgan had been a young man, his financial empire would have been a mere shadow of what it was. He died at the height of his power.

Fortunately, experience is made for our Supreme Court judges, whose work requires maturity, knowledge and the independence of heavy public responsibility.

Chief Justice Hughes explains an example of great experience combined with mature years, as powerful mentally as he was forty years ago, with increased learning, he celebrated his eightieth birthday this year.

Had he been president of a railroad, doing other work important to the country, he would have been expected to retire long since.

It is fortunate that the writers of the Constitution realized the value of mature wisdom, that more than others the physical weakness of old age, Roosevelt Franklin, who was 58 when he signed the Declaration of Independence, was about 50 when the Constitution was signed.

Addressing 300,000 followers, and widely applauded, Hitler said:
"Germany is equal to any nation on earth."
"If we begin, we are successful. The next step is uncertain; some genius of the air might alter the flight quickly.
Discipline and courage on the ground might make little difference."

And Hitler's problem, like the Kaiser's in 1918, might not be "equity with any nation," but with a COLLECTIVIST world.
Today, such airplanes, approach might make the heart of any other nation wither in hours. No problem is safe except that, was of loss, loss would not pay.

RACERS UNLICENSED, REVERE CHARGES, AS CASE STIRS CITY

While the storm of protest over the attacking of an license was on record for either the owner or trainer of the animals.

NAZIS SPEED WAR FLEET TO SPAIN

BULLETINS
Paris, Aug. 20 (AP)—The commanders of the United States battleship Oklahoma and the Cruiser Quincy reported today that they had arrived off Palma, Mallorca, to evacuate Americans.

London, Aug. 20 (AP)—The British Navy today reported that the Spanish radio station announced that the Spanish battleship, the Spanish private fighter, had been killed by a government fighter squad.

Paris, Aug. 20 (INS)—A Spanish rebel airplane bombarded and sank a Loyalist submarine off Cadix late yesterday, according to a dispatch received here today.

Berlin, Aug. 20 (INS)— German warships in Spanish waters were ordered to resort to armed force today in the event of any repetition of the incident in which the merchant liner Kamerun was halted
and searched while en route to Cadiz to pick up Reich refugees.

Stoutly determined to prevent any such action in the future by Spanish combatants despite the frantic efforts of Great Britain to forestall a new international crisis arising from the incident,
Germany sent a sharp protest to Madrid, dispatched seven new warships to Spanish waters and
issued the above orders to her
naval commanders.

The ships on route to Spanish
waters are the 10,000-ton Grafspiegel, the cruisers Nürnberg and Leipzig and the torpedo boats Driffl, Polke, Jaguar and Wolf.

Any interference with the free passage of German vessels outside the three-mile limit, it was pointed out, would be regarded as an act of war.

Terrorism in Seattle Strike

PUBLICATION of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, owned by Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc., and published in the city of Seattle, Washington, has been suspended indefinitely.
For six days past, the plant has been picketed by a mob of longshoremen, teamsters, woodsmen, and a few representatives of the Newspaper Guild.

The Newspaper Guild, representing twenty-six employees out of eighty in the editorial department, declared a strike because of the discharge of two employees, one for incompetency and one for insubordination. The cases of these two discharged employees have been filed by the Newspaper Guild with the National Labor Relations Board, appointed by President Roosevelt.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer has contracts with the Typographical Union, the Pressmen's Union, the Stereotypers' Union, and the Engravers' Union.
The local chapter of the printers' union aided the strike, which has been declared illegal by Charles

EAST BOSTON CANDIDATES IN BATTLE

James S. Coffey and Alexander F. Sullivan, both of East Boston and both Democratic candidates for the State Senate, engaged in a rough-and-tumble fist fight in the heating rooms of the State Ballot Law Commission at the State House today.

Kicking, clawing, punching and wrestling while operators and members of the commission alternately urged them to "stop" and "fight," the battling politicians were finally wrested apart by Nick Lavery, a State House guard.

If started when Coffey stood before the commission to protest Sullivan's charge that his nomination papers were fraudulent, Sullivan, a member of the commission, was
"I did not say your charge was all wrong."
"He was with you, Coffey thought."
"Get up on your feet and say that!"
Sullivan rose and the two men clashed.

Col. Knox Leaves For Manchester

Charles P. Knox, Aug. 20 (AP)— Colonel Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential candidate, left here by auto today for his summer home at Manchester, N.H., after making a campaign speech last night in Haverhill, Mass.

BRITAIN'S PEACE PLAN FAILS; CRISIS GROWS

London, Aug. 20 (INS)—Spiriting frantically to prevent Spain's bloody civil conflict from spreading flames of war throughout Europe, the British government tonight despaired of inducing Europe to reach a non-intervention accord.

While officials were engaged in agreement toward Spain on the issue of refuge in view of action of a Spanish Loyalist warship in baiting and searching the German steamer, Kamen, around Germany to die, British officials at Madrid rejected a new international
crisis arising from the incident,
Germany sent a sharp protest to Madrid, dispatched seven new
warships to Spanish waters and
issued the above orders to her
naval commanders.

The ships on route to Spanish
waters are the 10,000-ton Grafspie-

ASSUMED NAME ALSO FAILS

This is the fifth installment of the former Norma Miller's own story of "The Road Back." Today the minister's daughter, who was widowed by the electric chair, tells you how her tragic past pursued her, even when, in the world's largest city, she sought to bury her identity under an assumed name.

WITH WIN BROOKS

The first three weeks of my life with the Waylands in Madison, N. J., were perhaps the happiest since the crash of my dream.

I was Eileen Bright. Nobody stared, nobody whispered.

I lost that pressing dread of recognition.

The Waylands made me at home as if I had been a friend of many years, paying no attention to my situation.

Mr. Wayland and I worked regularly for several hours every day, but after that my time was my own. Mrs. Wayland and I went shopping, made several trips to New York, visited the Algonquin Club and the Opera House, did the housework. The children went with us on many occasions.

In July I lost the feeling that people were watching me and feeling about me.

My many of the Wayland friends. Many of these were young couples. To them I was Eileen Bright.

Some Knew

Introductions were no longer at first. I caught myself watching for any glimpse of recognition, any indication that my past identity was known.

But later I learned that several of the Wayland friends knew who I was.

"This is my friend, Eileen," I said one day. "I caught myself watching for any glimpse of recognition, any indication that my past identity was known."

But later I learned that several of the Wayland friends knew who I was.

The morning of my Jerome Kramm wedding.

I was excited. It was the first time since I had ever been married that I was married by the name of a "first night."

I had a few nervous throbs as I went to my first night.

A young married couple, friends of the Waylands, were to be married in the same room as I was to be married.

I thought it was all the same. I had been married before.

FREE CHARGES DEAL CASES FEAR OVER BUSINESS

FREE ENTERPRISE CITED AS NEED OF NATION

Hagerstown, Md., Aug. 20 (US)—Colonel Frank Knox, Republican candidate for Vice-President, in an address before the United Retail Merchants Association here last night, said in part:

I shall speak to you less as a candidate for public office and more as an American citizen interested in the solution of great economic problems now facing the nation.

I am pleased to speak at such a meeting as this. As a newspaper publisher I have long had intimate relations with retail merchants. I know something of their service to our economic life. I know something of their problems and troubles.

All of you here are battling against depression. You have faced the decline of consumption, the loss of customers, the impossibility of collections, an increase of competition, and a heavier burden of taxation.

Merchants' Useful

You are one of the great agencies in American economic life. You are the instrument through which the huge output of our fields and our factories is distributed to a hundred and thirty million consumers.

You have been hearing a lot lately about economic republics. It is a nice phrase, but what does it mean? Take your own retail business. There are a million and a half retail stores in the country. The average number of employees is two. If the retail business of this country is run by economic republics, there are a million and a half of them. You are not the very much of a king when you boss just two people.

The nearest approach to economic republics we have had in this country was the tenancy system of the South. There were economic republics for quite a while, but before the end they looked like things suffering from delirium tremens.

The economic system of ours is founded on free enterprise. It works, even in depression. It does not break down, although it may be badly wounded. It is the only system of production that will work. We have tried government regulation, and we shall be trying to recover from the experiment. We have tried government control of industry, and it delayed recovery. We tried cashing checks on the moon, and it produced investment. What is the lesson from all this? It is a simple one. It is the lesson that the business of our country is a business. It is the lesson that a million and a half retailers are better than a few million bureaucrats in Washington, even an army general. It is the lesson that not even a brain-truster can tell when a dollar is selling.

One-Sided Pact

In 1935 remember the President's re-employment agreement, forced on more than two million employees by the Congress of 1935? This was the agreement that was to put six million men back to work in six months.

If the terms of that one-sided agreement had been enforced, it would almost certainly have cost us half the small business, and the small business, in the country, only the big fellows could have lived under it.

If it had been time that we should abandon this foolish notion that government can direct industry and control production and guarantee profits, and hence wages. Nobody knows just what the Hamilton-Patterson bill means to the retailer and in the consumer. It may be very much. It may be intended to make competition

Want Fewer Laws

Whatever the activities of our federal government, there are three simple standards which should govern its conduct of national affairs. The people want these standards observed.

The first of these standards is simplicity. We want fewer laws and better laws. We want laws that the people can understand.

Leads to Communism

Nowadays three-fifths of all federal laws come from the executive branch of the government. The people want to know the source of the laws that govern their lives.

A continuation of this progressive encroachment of government upon the individual will come to mean that in the end one-half the people will be supporting themselves and the other half will be dependent on the government.

It leads inevitably to government ownership of the means of production, and to the establishment of a new system of government.

Governmental action is a necessary part of our life. It is necessary to protect the individual from the actions of the majority.

The government must be able to protect the individual from the actions of the majority. It must be able to protect the individual from the actions of the majority.

Avoid Mistakes

For the past three years all American business has lived in the shadow of fear and uncertainty. There is a strong tendency in this country today to want a vast pool of idle capital funds. It is a share of capital so vast that it would almost suffice to supply the capital needs of all the nations of the world.

HAMILTON SEES NEW DEAL SWAMPED IN NOVEMBER

Chicago, Aug. 20 (US)—Declaring that he has substantiated his belief that the votes of the American people are not for sale, John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, returned here from an airplane campaign tour through the west confident that the New Deal will be swamped in defeat in November.

Stepping out of the plane in which he traveled 450 miles since August 3, Chairman Hamilton said he covered the important centers of three states each day, making a total of 30 formal speeches.

"I can confidently say the spirit of defiance has entirely vanished from the Republican Party," he said. "Even in those states which might normally be expected to cast their popular and electoral vote for Mr. Roosevelt, we found Republican organization active and eager to undertake the arduous work of the campaign."

Hamilton asserted in an address that Arthur M. Curtis, Republican national committeeman from Missouri, had placed on the desk of Hopkins affidavits proving the fact of the matter.

Beaten With Hose, Says Co-Ed Killer

Asheville N. C., Aug. 20 (AP)—Martin Moore, whose appearance on the witness stand sent the father of the girl he is alleged to have killed into a faint, told Judge Don Phillips today he was beaten with a rubber hose at the time of his arrest before he confessed killing Helen Chester.

Moore said the hose was wielded by "a fat man" who also used his fist in seeking to obtain the Negro's story.

He said "the fat man" also told him officers had found his fingerprints on a lampshade in the girl's room.

Moore's attorneys were conducting a determined prosecuting effort to enter in evidence the signed confession, which said the negro went to Miss Chester's hotel room at 1 p. m., July 16, to rob it, but killed her in panic lest he be discovered when she awoke.

J. F. Cavanaugh, of Great Mills, Britain Island, N. Y., father of Helen Chester, fainting as Moore approached the stand and had to be carried from the courtroom.

Spain's Foreign Legion Invades Constantino For Contraband and Snipers

Members of Spain's famous Foreign Legion took over the town of Constantino for the Loyalist government, and this exclusive snapshot, just received via the dirigible Hindenburg, records the incident of occupation. Women folk of the town were commanded to come out of their homes with hands upraised, while soldiers searched the premises for contraband and snipers. Horror was the emotion registered by the terrified women as they pleaded with soldiers to spare their men folk. More than 100 men residents of the town, suspected of rebel sympathies, were executed by Loyalist troops, according to reports.

Duke Ready to Play Lone Hand in Neutrality

Berlin, Aug. 20 (AP)—Three political fatalities from Germany's Olympic Village were disclosed today as one of them the outside of the village was announced.

The newest death was that of the Hungarian featherweight boxer, Nicola Bercsanyi, who recently was taken to a hospital from the village, suffering from a cold.

He died as a result of blood poisoning, authorities said.

The Hungarian military leader said Captain Wolfhard Purner, vice-commandant of the Olympic Village, had committed suicide.

At the same time it was learned another popular figure in the Olympic organization, Captain Purner, had died suddenly, with the cause as yet undetermined.

Kubus, inspecting chief of the North German Lloyd Steamship line, had been chosen for an evening post on the village community staff because of his wide experience.

A spokesman, confronted with reports the vice-commandant had committed suicide because of his emotion, said Purner had been hospitalized as a result of a fall from a height of 100 feet.

There can't anything come up to a real Family Recipe!

Speaking of good eating and drinking—it just seems like a real Family Recipe has got a tastiness to it like nothing else. It's just one of those things. Take the Wilken Family Whiskey Recipe... folks say for mildness and real out and out tastiness they never yet tasted the best of it or anything like it.

I shouldn't wonder if maybe it's all the care our Family puts into the making of it—being proud you might say—on account of it's being a personal Family Recipe. You know the Wilken Family has been distilling since I don't know when. I know Dad was at it over 40 years, and Granddad ahead of him. And William and Tom and me had a hand in turning out over a million cases of the Wilken Family Whiskey all told. And maybe we're not glad you like it the way you do!

'Johann Strauss,' To Be Filmed

By HARRIET PARSONS

Los Angeles, Aug. 20 (U.S.)—It's no news that Francis Lederer has been seen frequently on the M-G-M lot and that negotiations have been afoot for him to do "The Life of Johann Strauss" for that studio.

But it is news with a capital "B" that Francis is in the range of making a first screen contract with a studio. Francis Lederer has been making a name for himself in the theatre, and it is not surprising that he is being considered for the part of Strauss in the picture.

Francis Lederer

Francis Lederer is a well-known actor, and it is not surprising that he is being considered for the part of Strauss in the picture.

Roxbury Police Chase Stabber

"I went all the way from up position, past police, to county resolution and fascism and so finally to fascism."

However, Zinn's defense his actions by saying "the evolution of our efforts to find the party naturally and inevitably led to fascism."

His whole appearance was one of a dazed man who knew he was doomed, giving his final explanation in the world.

We did, however, desire the party by having the use of cable censors through photostatic means to the party in order to use the same weapons freely, employing, but in a different way.

The "electric eye" sees all in testing Chesterfield cigarette paper

The picture above shows one of the many tests for purity and quality in the laboratories of the Champagne Paper Co.

Nothing is left to chance to make sure that Chesterfield paper is the finest that money can buy.

Chesterfield paper must measure up to the Chesterfield standard...

... it must be scientifically pure
... it must burn uniformly without taste or odor.

Popeye

Put Louis in Good Humor

New York, Aug. 20 (U.S.)—Joe Louis, the "Popeye" disciple, read his favorite comic Tuesday night and then knickered a once "terrible" sailorman popeyed, it developed today.

Louis, who usually sleeps in his dressing room before answering the opening gong for a fight, fretted and fussed before he jumped into the ring and met Jack Dempsey, and he took a careful reading of "Popeye" to bring him back to calm and good humor. The Bomber laughed at "Popeye's" antics and asked:

"Which ya' all like best, ol' Popeye or Wimpy? That Wimpy sho's a funny man I think. But I likes ol' Popeye

Kay Coming Back

Mr. & Mrs. Samuels did not quite have her bearings when she launched her opening Essex appearance.

Lou Gehrig Star of Diamond

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—For the second straight 30-day period Lou Gehrig is baseball's "star of the month."

The Yankees iron man received honorable mention seven times in the Associated Press daily list of "yesterday's stars" to top at the big league in the month beginning July 15.

His total was two more than a half of five other performers in the American League. They were: 11 by the New York Yankees and Phil Cramer of Cleveland; 10 by Jim Fregosi of the Los Angeles Dodgers; 9 by John Mize and Jim Bouton of the Cardinals; and 8 by Dean Oll, of the Giants, each of whom won "league" five times during the month.

Fregosi total for the month counted him into a tie with Vin Mazzaro of the Brooklyn Dodgers, each with 13.

Does Jimmy Repent His Bargain?

[illegible]

Max Will Hold Jimmy

A LIBERAL GLENS WOULD PLACE a Braddock-timbering gate at $1,000,000 of which Jimmy would take the commission east half and 10 percent. But a Braddock Long go would probably reach a million of which Jimmy's share would be $500,000, a sum which, even after being skimmed by his manager and the federal tax, would leave his family against wind to a fortune.

He told me yesterday in his New York hotel that, if Prudlock wanted to have his hand operated upon, he (Max) would go back to Germany and wait until he (Lommy) was cured of what ailed him. "But I wil holdt him to d d contract both in der communion und in wlt, I sayed."

Boxing's Smartest Business Brain

THE MAN BEHIND BRADDOCK'S PHENAGLE IS Joe Gould, his manager, who is a fast man with figures and a pleasant lady to boot. Jimmy is a cold good-natured way, told the commission, "Aw, I'll fight, sure." But Joe had him by the lapels on the instant, growling "No, you won't," and Jimmy set panned sheepishly and shrugged his shoulders.

"That," he said, "tentatively," is more important in my study of the day today."

SOME RACKET! But even a racket fails to hide Jane Stanton's beauty. Jane, eliminated from play at Essex County Club this week, is practicing daily, getting ready for the Longwood tourney, her real goal on this Eastern invasion.

Jane Stanton, pretty 18-year-old California girl, is steadily improving her tennis standing. Matched against the best in the country here in the East she has failed to win any important titles, but she is a factor in each tourney and will be a title threat next Summer.
